HENLEY-PUTNAM UNIVERSITY AND AMERICAN SENTINEL UNIVERSITY ENTER INTO PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT TO BROADEN COURSE OFFERINGS

San Jose, CA, October 21, 2008 – Henley-Putnam University (www.henley-putnam.edu), a premier university for online higher education in the field of Strategic Security, is pleased to announce that it has signed an agreement with American Sentinel University (www.americansentinel.edu), a premier university for online higher education in the fields of Technology, Business, Healthcare and Criminal Justice, headquartered in Aurora, CO.

The partnership will provide American Sentinel University students with access to Bachelor's and Master's Degree Programs in the fields of Intelligence Management, Terrorism and Counterterrorism Studies, and Personal Protection. In addition, students will have access to the new Henley-Putnam Doctorate Degree Program in Strategic Security. Prospective Henley-Putnam students who do not have an Associate Degree (a minimum requirement for admission), will be able to complete their degree in a range of topics including Information Systems and Criminal Justice. In addition, the two Universities will collaborate on co-marketing initiatives.

"Henley-Putnam is very pleased to partner with a well regarded institution like American Sentinel University, which continues to offer one of the best value programs in online education today. Future Henley-Putnam students coming from American Sentinel will find the identical e-classroom systems as well as the same emphasis on quality instruction," says Greg Von Gehr, CEO of Henley-Putnam University.

"This partnership gives American Sentinel and Henley-Putnam an opportunity to offer students a comprehensive curriculum for earning their Associate degree. We can also showcase the wide variety of degree programs each school has to offer," said Richard W. Oliver, PhD, CEO of American Sentinel.
